VIBRANT SCHOOL HOLIDAY PROGRAMS

Minjilang came alive throughout July 2025 with a dynamic and collaborative school holiday program, bringing together local organisations and community members to deliver a series of fun, inclusive, and culturally meaningful events.

Led by West Arnhem Regional Council (WARC) in partnership with the Clinic, Community Development Program (CDP), ALPA Store, and other dedicated local supporters, the program focused on youth engagement, community leadership, and cultural pride.

Highlights from the program included:

- Multiple disco nights, including a special girls'/women's-only event aimed at building confidence and promoting empowerment;
- A celebration disco for the AFL Under 16s boys, recognising their participation in the regional competition in Gunbalanya;

- A Territory Day Movie Night, drawing families and friends together under the stars;

- NAIDOC Week celebrations, honouring the strength, culture and achievements of First Nations people.

"Collaborative school holiday program, bringing together local organisations and community members.."

Events were hosted across key community hubs including the WARC building, Minjilang Oval, and the Basketball Court - ensuring activities were accessible and welcoming for everyone.

The program was designed to:

- Strengthen community connections;
- Foster collaboration between stakeholders;
- Empower young people and women;
- Celebrate culture and tradition;
- Provide safe, engaging activities for all ages during the school holidays.

West Arnhem Regional Council thanks all the partners and volunteers who made the program possible - especially the Sport & Recreation Team, Clinic, CDP, ALPA Store, and the many community members who gave their time and energy.

Together, Minjilang continues to show what's possible when a community works as one.

SORRY BUSINESS PROTOCOLS

In West Arnhem Land, the cultural practice known as Sorry Business is guided by intricate protocols that assign specific responsibilities to designated individuals within the community. Central to this tradition are the "working men and women," who bear the cultural weight of the proceedings.

For instance, when the deceased hails from the Ngarrangarratjku subsection, it is the Martkumartku individuals who assume these responsibilities.

Currently, William and Jason, both members of the Martkumartku subsection and part of the Works Team in Warruwi, are diligently fulfilling their roles during this delicate process.

Council Services Manager Geraldine Narul highlights the importance of diversity in the team, stating that recruiting staff from both subsections not only fosters balance but also enhances flexibility during cultural activities, as participation is often dictated by subsection affiliation.

The duties of the working men begin upon the arrival of the deceased; they serve as pallbearers and take on roles such as driving the deceased to the Sorry Camp and gathering firewood including the burial process.

In the picture, William and Jason are seen carefully preparing the burial site, ensuring that the process is conducted with the utmost sensitivity and respect for the family of the deceased.

TALENT SHINES AT WEST ARNHEM FOOTY CARNIVAL

Earlier this month, the spirit of footy brought together young players from Gunbalanya, Jabiru, Maningrida, Warruwi and Minjilang for the West Arnhem Under 16s Footy Carnival - a high-energy event that celebrated talent, teamwork, and regional pride.

Held as a direct outcome of the West Arnhem Youth Leadership Summit, the two-day carnival was more than just a sporting competition. As one of several AFL talent events across the Northern Territory, the carnival offered players a chance to impress AFLNT staff and potentially earn a place in the upcoming Michael Long Cup in Darwin this August.

About 60 youth represented their communities with great enthusiasm, teamwork, leadership and sportsmanship. There were some great games and players in front of supporters that enjoyed the spectacle on the upgraded oval with lights. It was great to see Gunbalanya community get involved as goal umpires, coaches, water boys etc.

The carnival also created space for young people to connect, build friendships, and show what's possible through sport.

After a massive weekend of action-packed games, Gunbalanya took home the winning trophy and plenty of pride.

Gunbalanya's own Demesiaus Garlingarr was also named the overall MVP for the carnival. He was selected by Cazalys NT Talent Academy head coach Dale Eames, Demesiaus impressed with his speed, skill, creativity, and fearless approach to the contest.

It was 'reward for effort' for the training they put into their footy. It was also great to see the power of footy re-engaging some youth that have been suffering from substance abuse, at risk of entering criminal justice system and just disengaged from community.

Supported by the Australian Sports Commission and the National Indigenous Australians Agency, and delivered in partnership with West Arnhem Regional Council, Adjumarllarl Aboriginal Corporation, AFL Northern Territory and TeamHealth, the event highlighted the power of collaboration in creating opportunities for youth in West Arnhem communities.

GUNBALANYA HEALTH CENTRE NOW COMMUNITY CONTROLLED

The Finocchiaro CLP Government continues to work closely with Aboriginal leaders to empower remote communities with health care services in Gunbalanya and the wider West Arnhem region now delivered by the Aboriginal Community Controlled Health Service, Red Lily Health Board.

Minister for Health Steve Edgington said the handover of Gunbalanya Health Centre is an exciting step forward for the community of Gunbalanya and for West Arnhem.

"Our government is focused on strengthening services to Aboriginal people in remote areas, and we look forward to seeing Red Lily Health Board manage Gunbalanya. A lot of work has gone into the transition," he said.

"The handover will give local residents a greater opportunity to influence the type and cultural appropriateness of health services offered.

"It is part of our commitment to improve service delivery and outcomes through better coordination and integration of services, supporting the delivery of healthcare and improved health outcomes."

"With greater opportunities to influence health care services.."

Chair of the Red Lily Health Board, Marcia Brennan, said the transition, which officially took place on 1 July, went smoothly and was a proud moment for local people.

"Community control means decisions about our health are being made by our own people, in our own way," Ms Brennan said.

"The Red Lily Health Board is made up of strong local voices, and we're ready to walk together with Gunbalanya and partners to build a stronger, healthier future."

Evidence shows that increasing community involvement in the planning and delivery of health services brings additional health benefits to locals."

The Red Lily Board and NT Health have worked in partnership to transition to operations to Aboriginal community control in line with community needs.

Two doctors and three nurses have been made available until 11 July to assist with a smooth transfer of services.

NT Health will continue to provide support in the community, including visiting specialist services such as optometry, paediatrics, and oral health.

BUILDING SAFER ROADS IN KAKADU

The Australian and Northern Territory governments are delivering long-awaited upgrades to key roads in Kakadu National Park to improve visitor access, boost safety and support economic growth.

The first tender under the Australian Government's $70 million program of upgrades has opened, with construction on Kubara Road and Maguk Road set to begin in 2025.

These works are part of the Australian Government's $216 million Growing Tourism in Kakadu package.

The package was announced in 2019 and is now being delivered by the Northern Territory Government's Department of Logistics and Infrastructure (DLI) in partnership with Parks Australia and the federal Department of Infrastructure, Transport, Regional Development, Communications, Sport and the Arts.

Between 2025 and 2027, upgrades will be completed on five visitor roads – Jim Jim Falls, Maguk, Gimbat, Gunlom and Kubara – to improve flood immunity, support tourism and business, reduce closures and extend safe access to some of the Territory's most iconic sites.

Importantly, the works will be staged to minimise impact on visitors and operators.

"Kakadu is a key economic and cultural asset for the Northern Territory, and these upgrades will support our local communities and tourism operators," said Minister for Parks and Wildlife and Tourism and Hospitality Marie-Claire Boothby.

"Kakadu's most iconic locations and experience this World Heritage wonder.."

"These improvements will make it easier to visit stunning places like Maguk Gorge, with its stone amphitheatre and plunge pool, and Kubara Pools, near the Nanguluwurr Art Site." "It's about delivering action, certainty and security for Traditional Owners, tourism operators and visitors."

"Construction will be managed carefully to ensure continued access – delivering certainty for locals and the tourism sector."

Federal Member for Lingiari Marion Scrymgour said, "This investment will make it safer and easier for people to visit some of Kakadu's most iconic locations and experience this World Heritage wonder."

"Upgrading these key roads will improve flood resilience and travel conditions, while supporting local businesses and tourism operators."

"These works are part of our broader commitment to making sure Kakadu remains a world-class destination."

JABIRU TOWN PLAZA GETS A VIBRANT NEW LOOK

The centre of Jabiru is looking brighter than ever, thanks to a fresh new makeover of the Jabiru Town Plaza as part of Jabiru's Revitalisation supported by the Northern Territory Government.

West Arnhem Regional Council has facilitated this stage of the project with stakeholder support along the way.

Designed to transform the plaza into a welcoming hub for both residents and visitors, the first stage of the revitalisation has introduced vibrant soft furnishings, picnic rugs, umbrellas, and even giant games like Jenga - adding colour, comfort, and fun to the space.

To improve the greenery and overall atmosphere, three old garden beds were removed and replaced with lawns, planted by local contractor Kakadu Native Plants. Adding to the community spirit, Caulfield Grammar School volunteered their time to paint garden bed frames and verandah posts, giving the plaza a brighter feel.

Stage two of the project is already in motion, with plans to install new wayfinding signage and fill the remaining garden beds with native plants chosen for their colour, fruit, and educational value.

The transformation is already making a difference - creating a more inviting and inclusive space where people can relax and connect.
