

The 2025 Kurrung Sports Carnival program included a women's AFL showcase match with Maningrida versus Jabiru Bombers. Both teams displayed amazing sportsmanship and skill.

CELEBRATING SPORT AND UNITY

The 2025 Kurrung Sports Carnival lit up Jabiru on September 5 and 6, showcasing an outstanding weekend of football and basketball. Hosted by West Arnhem Regional Council, the event brought together men's and women's teams from Jabiru, Minjilang, Maningrida, Warruwi and Gunbalanya.

Through Kurrung, the Council continues its commitment to strengthening communities across West Arnhem. This year's program was bigger than ever, featuring both men's and women's basketball and AFL competitions.

At the opening ceremony of the carnival, West Arnhem Regional Council Mayor James Woods said, "One of the best things about today is seeing all of us come together – not only to compete in sport, but to share friendships, memories and community spirit".

The carnival also fosters strong partnerships with regional stakeholders, and the Council extends its thanks to the organisations that played a key role in making this year's event a success.

"Seeing all of us come together – not only to compete in sport, but to share friendships, memories and community spirit."

This included the Tackling Indigenous Smoking Team and Caulfield Grammar for volunteering and the valuable sponsors and supporters of the carnival.

Long-time and valuable partner, the NO MORE Campaign had a strong presence through the carnival, supporting and promoting positive fair play, respect and camaraderie on and off the field. Thank you to David at No More who brought teams together at each grand final game to speak about and acknowledge the important messages of eradicating violence in sport, households and our communities.

The NO MORE team awarded the 'Spirit of Kurrung' cup to the Community which displayed the important values of sportsmanship, respect, inclusion and fair play throughout the carnival.

The proud Community which received this award was Minjilang!

Thank you to Charlie King from ABC Radio for conducting live on-air updates of the carnival over the weekend.

In the results, there was a lot of close competition, showcasing the depth of talent in the region.

WARRUWI WATER FESTIVAL

Mathilda Lipscombe from Power and Water's Water Demand Management team visited Waruwi on South Goulburn Island recently to run the Waruwi Water Festival.

Waruwi is an at-risk community when it comes to water security, and the event was an opportunity for two-way knowledge sharing between Power and Water and residents. It was a chance for people to ask questions, take part in groundwater monitoring and share cultural stories.

The Mardbalk Land & Sea Rangers and Junior Rangers were involved.

Several residents recorded water conservation messages for sharing with the wider community.

Power and Water works with communities like Waruwi to share with people how precious water is, where it comes from and how they can help protect it.

NEW MACHINERY IN MANINGRIDA

Jack Rau from Airpower recently travelled to Maningrida to hand over a new Hyundai 757TM-9 wheel loader to the West Arnhem Regional Council team.

The addition of this machine will support quality service delivery in the community, with uses including landfill maintenance and road works.

It is fitted with a log grabber attachment for tree removal and container forks, which will assist with barge unloading operations.

FIRST CIRCLES PROGRAM OPENS DOORS

The Finocchiaro CLP Government is inviting Aboriginal Territorians to take part in the First Circles Leadership Program, a flagship initiative helping to grow future leaders, strengthen communities and deliver long-term certainty for Territorians.

Minister for Aboriginal Affairs Steve Edgington said the CLP Government is encouraging emerging Aboriginal leaders to apply for the 2026 program and take an active role in strengthening their communities.

"In our year of action, certainty and security we continue to invest in a program that provides pathways for leaders from our remote areas to lead their own communities, contribute to change and help shape the future of the Territory," he said.

"Through workshops, mentorship and education, we build leadership capacity, strengthen governance skills, and empower members to directly engage with high-profile leaders, community representatives, key services and organisations."

Since the CLP flagship initiative began in 2014, 122 Aboriginal leaders from across the Territory have participated. Eleven members from the 2025 cohort will address CLP Government Ministers in October, presenting their advice on policies, projects and initiatives that directly affect their families and communities.

"This program ensures emerging leaders can provide practical solutions to community challenges while gaining certainty and confidence in navigating public policy," Mr Edgington said.

The six-month program includes four face-to-face workshops and has been instrumental in supporting Aboriginal Territorians to deliver projects that address remote community challenges and provide practical solutions.

"The initiative fosters two-way collaboration and knowledge-sharing between government and remote communities as participants deepen their understanding of public policy and its impacts on Aboriginal Territorians," Mr Edgington said.

First Circles Leadership Program 2025 participant Selmer Smiler, from Kalkarindji in the Victoria Daly region, said she applied so she could inspire the young people in her community.

"After completing First Circles I am able to explore further training courses and opportunities that can help me have a greater impact in my community," she said.

Applications close on 31 October 2025.

GUNBALANYA SCHOOL CELEBRATES A CENTURY

Gunbalanya School has reached a milestone, celebrating a Century of two-way education on 19 September 2025.

The Centenary event brought together current and former students and teachers, with school students creating an exhibition that reflects the history and present-day life of the school comprising historical school photos, aircraft that have visited the school and memories of teachers who have shaped the school's journey.

Minister for Education and Training Jo Hersey took the opportunity to tour the school and the Trades Training Centre while in Gunbalanya and congratulated the community for their commitment to education.

"Since the CLP came to Government, Gunbalanya School has received an extra $1.9 million in funding through the Better Fairer Schools Agreement," she said.

"We want to see that extra money translate into improved school attendance rates and better literacy and numeracy levels."

Gunbalanya School attendance in Term 2 2025 was 41.5%, compared to 36.9% in Term 2 2024.

"Two-way education is important for communities like Gunbalanya to ensure we have culturally appropriate classrooms kids want to be in," she added.

One of the School's highlights was in 2004 when Gunbalanya School won a Best Film award for "The Echidna & The Turtle".

Gunbalanya School Principal Sue Trimble said, "This Centenary Celebration represents 100 Years of School Education but also honours the many thousands of years that Bininj people have formally and informally shared their knowledge wealth within cultural teaching and learning practices.

"We are thrilled to welcome previous educators and families back to Gunbalanya to share their connection and experiences."

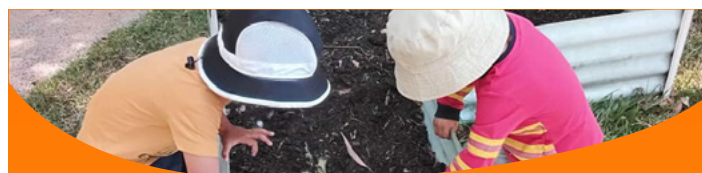

Gunbalanya School Principal Sue Trimble, Minister for Education and Training Jo Hersey, Department of Education and Training Chief Executive Susan Bowden and Minister for People, Sport and Culture Jinson Charls.

CELEBRATING LÚRRA FESTIVAL IN MANINGRIDA

This year's Lúrra Festival, hosted by the Nja-marléya Cultural Leaders and Justice Group in Maningrida, was nothing short of spectacular.

Lúrra is more than entertainment – it's about keeping culture strong, bringing people together, and celebrating the strengths of the community.

The week-long program was jam-packed with activities, food, music, fashion, and sport – a true celebration for the whole community. Guided by the values of Lúrra, the festival brought together people from across the region to honour the strength, talent, skill, and spirit of this beautiful place, as well as those here, been, and becoming.

The AFL football and basketball competitions drew huge crowds, with more than 200 people gathering to cheer on their teams. The energy, excitement, and display of respect, sportsmanship, and friendly competition made these events real highlights.

Festivals like Lúrra don't just happen – they're made possible thanks to the tireless work of the many people behind the scenes who bring it all together.

JABIRU LIBRARY SUPPORTS LITERACY IN THE PHILIPPINES

Jabiru residents Barry and Nancy Bentley recently approached the Jabiru Public Library to collect books for donation to children in the Philippines.

The library was pleased to provide a selection of used picture books, recently retired from the collection but still in excellent condition. These books have now found a new home in a rural province of the Philippines, where they are being used to support children's literacy and numeracy.

This marks the second time the Jabiru Public Library has been able to contribute to this community, thanks to Barry and Nancy's initiative.

Barry and Nancy are highly valued members of the Jabiru community, and their efforts show how even small gifts can make a big difference in supporting children's education.
